MENTOR'S NAME:

Scenario

In project prototype before this , you already created a dynamic website prototype for a seller at a night market. By integrating the database and database processes into the website, you must now upgrade and confirm that the prototype is operating as intended. In member of two (2) integrate both of your prototype for this project.

Tasks:

1. Describe the purpose of website prototype enhancement.
2. Apply enhancement to your prototype to build a dynamic website with the following:
 - a. construct a database with appropriate class(s) and attribute(s) for each class
 - b. the positioning of the graphic (picture/image/video), form, and content to suit all nightmarket seller requirements.
3. Illustrate the suitability used of enhancement in Task 1. (Provide screen shot in your explanation)
4. Illustrate how database operation (post, get, put and delete) are implemented in your dynamic website.
5. Produce a report and upload your work in Teams

Section B

1. Present your website.

Section A

1. Describe the purpose of website prototype enhancement.

In web design, a prototype is an interactive mockup of a web design. It can give us a good idea of a website's functionality, user journey, and flow. The prototype also enables us to connect screens and demonstrate how the website will function before it is fully built.

In this assignment, the GreenHouse store website is a combination of a gardening and kitchenware website that is specifically made for a night market seller to sell to the customer as an alternative to a physical store due to COVID-19. With this combination of websites, it helps the seller sell a variety of products in each category as part of business strategy to attract customers. This is because, during the lockdown of COVID-19, customers used a lot of gadgets and social media to search for they want or review it at any online shopping store. Plus, most people spend their time at home during the lockdown doing activities that help them cope with stress, such as gardening, decorating, cooking, or baking at home with the variety tools of kitchenware, tableware and gardening.

Below is the purpose of website prototype enhancement:

➤ User Sign In and Sign Up

Users must sign in before they can continue shopping on the first page. Users must provide their names, birth dates, and gender, among other things. When a user enters information, it is immediately saved in the database. This demonstrates that we used a database on our website to improve our prototype. The purpose of this enhancement is to make it easier for users to stay signed in; users will no longer have to sign in each time they want to browse our website.

➤ Aesthetic and Friendly Colour Shades

Aside from that, we use various colour shades on our website. In comparison to the prototype, our website is more pleasing and overall more appealing to the eye. The main reason for changing the colour shades to make it more comfortable is to ensure that everyone, regardless of age or disability, has a good time browsing our website. Older users may have sensitive eyes that make it difficult to look at bright, shiny things, and color-blind people may be limited to certain colours.

➤ More Variety of Products

Unlike the prototype website before this, which is solely focused on one type of product . In the GreenHouse store, it is actually a combination of gardening and kitchenware tools that consist of gardening plants , gardening tools , kitchen essentials, kitchen textiles and tableware . When these two products are combined It will help the product content become more engaging because the more products , the more opportunities there are for the user to search and purchase due to the diversity of products . At the same time, the newer looks on the interfaces of websites were made and built in order to make sure the website stayed relevant to the combination products of gardening and kitchenware that the seller sell .

➤ Delete and Update User Profile

In the customer's user profile , they can change their information and also delete their information (account) by navigating to the "profile" button at the navigation bar . Once they opened their profile page , they need to key in their email address . Which means if the user key-in their email address , the email act as a foreign key to detect in database wheter the information for the registered user is exist or not . If existed, the user's information will be display on the table box. From this phase , user also can edit their personal information at the "Update" button if they want to change some sort of their personal data . And the latest data of customer's will be displayed after the Update has been made . Meanwhile if user click the "Delete" button , the informartion of customer in database will also deleted and the customer will have no account anymore unless they register once again.

➤ Language Setting

Furthermore , when user navigate from homepage until checkout form , there will be a language translator for a user to choose in case the user can't understand or not fluent in English . At the same time , since the translator setting is powered by Google, this can attract a world wide customer to buy the products in GreenHouse store because the language availability is very wide and vast . The user only need to setting itself by selecting their desired language and the websites characters or alphabet on the interfaces will immediately change into user's desired language.

➤ Popup Notification Order

In the prototype website before this, there are no such notification that help user to notice that either the products is already been replaced or not . With the helps of this feature, which is the user or customer need to fill-up the checkout form first and there will be the "Confirm Placed Order" button at the bottom for user to click in order to make confirmation . Once the button is clicked , there is a popup notification bar that says "Your Order is Placed" and this indicates customer to know that their order is already been placed . So the customer won't ever get confused either they already made the order or not .
